Job Summary

Job Summary

The Public Utilities Commission will be filling up to two (2) vacancies at either the Rates Analyst 2 or Rates Analyst 3 level based on the education and experience of the successful candidate(s). The Rates Analyst 3 is Job ID 20971.

A Rates Analyst 2 advises the Commission on regulatory and energy policy issues. The incumbent would be expected to examine and interpret, orally and in writing, utility filings on such topics as rate design, forecasting, cost of capital and other issues relating to public utility regulatory and policy issues.

Job Duties:

- Examine and interpret, orally and in writing, regulatory and energy policy issues relating to public utilities using accounting, economic, financial and statistical information, including economic and financial analyses, financial statements and schedules, and other written documents.
- Evaluate utility filings and other regulatory issues, helping to insure that relevant information is provided to assist the Commission, and prepare written and oral reports.
- Conduct research and participate in and/or monitor work-group, legislative, and regional/national forums on regulatory energy and policy issues.

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications:

- Graduate degree in Economics, Finance, Business, Energy/Public Policy, Planning, Statistics, Law (JD), or related field, OR
- Bachelors' degree in Economics, Finance, Business, Energy/Public Policy, Planning, Statistics, Law (JD) or related field, AND, At least 1 years' experience as a Rates Analyst 1 or equivalent with a regulatory agency or utility, OR, At least 2 years of experience with an organization concerned with energy or utility issues other than a regulatory agency or utility.
- Knowledge of basic economic, statistical, and financial principles and tools.
- Written and oral communication skills sufficient to explain complex economic and regulatory concepts clearly and concisely.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Familiarity with the natural gas, electric, telecommunications and/or water industries.
- Familiarity with basic energy policy, utility ratemaking and/or regulatory concepts and practices.
- Basic quantitative skills.
- Ability to conduct research, investigations and analyses of regulatory and policy issues.
